

So girls it was our first starter using the app. How does it feel? finding the subject boring? :D

OMG this is like the best thing ever. There are 500 many questions will keep me busy for a while

There are so many achievement points to collect. It feels like we are being rewarded for everything we get a good mark on

This app makes doing essays so easy it gets

I like how help is readily available even with the first version

One of the major benefits of Hacker-less is its business model. The free version that anyone can download has 15 questionnaires and 1 up to 1000 achievement points, with help available for each question. One the user really helps the work more the full version is available in the app store for a reasonable price.
