

Mick

- 32 years old male.
- Computing room assistant where James teaches.
- Fairly new to the job.
- Quite tech savvy.
- Has a daughter who now enjoys coding after using Hack-Cess. Can easily relate to James's problem.

Qualities:

- Responsible parent who cares about his child's success and happiness.
 - Likes to share ideas.
 - Cares about others.
 - Will offer suggestions based on concrete evidence (he saw firsthand how our amazing the app was)
 - ~~Appreciates~~ Prefers quality over quantity.
-

Not too long ago, James' daughter Anne who is 11 years old was finding her coding lessons boring and told her dad that she ~~hated~~ ~~the subject~~ had no interest in the subject and that she was astonished at how most of the boys seemed to enjoy it, while he ~~hates~~ girl friends and herself hated it. and thought it